THE PRICE OF SILVER REGULATES THE PRICES OF PRODUCTS.

The attention of every business man and property holder is directed to the following article, from the New York Financial News. The News is not a political paper. As its name indicates it is devoted to financial and stock exchange affairs, and though published in Wall street, it strikes the keynote of the present situation.

It says in a leading article:

"Silver is the key to the situation. Its decline or rise in price regulates the price of products—grain, provisions, cotton—in a general way. This has been true in every step of the fluctuating decline begun in 1873. One instance of recent occurrence marks this fact with much emphasis. On the adjournment of the last Congress, after repealing the silver purchase clause of the Sherman law, it was necessary to reverse the panicky tendency of the markets generally, and to show that this legislation had been in the direction of a restoration of values. All that was necessary to affect a rise was to move up the price of silver. Silver is the button to be pushed. The rest follow. Silver was advanced several pence per ounce. A refreshing boom in prices of stocks, bonds, grain, cotton and products and commodities generally followed. The rise held and progressed so long as silver was manipulated upward. When the foreign finger was taken off the silver button down went silver, and securities, crops, products and commodities—in a word, trade—relapsed into the old ruts.

"With a silver battle on in earnest for the first time since 1873, there should be, and doubtless will be, gradual appreciation in the price of silver and as silver is the lever, its rise will carry values generally along with it, so far as products and commodities go. As to securities, in spite of many years of false teaching, the investing class would quickly discount the fact that securities must advance with a renewal and enlargement of trade.

"Falling prices for over twenty years have locked up money by destroying confidence in business. There has been no lack of confidence in our money, but falling prices mean inevitable loss, and, of course, destroy confidence. With a general rise in prices, which would ensue from the free coinage of silver, confidence in business would come back. Nothing but a rise in prices, can bring it back. The moment a general rise sets in on a scale to indicate it has come to stay money will come out of all the hoarding places created during a quarter of a century, and will flow in from other countries to get into business based on rising prices.

"Rising prices in money lock up money and destroy confidence in business. Rising prices in products and commodities unlock money and breed confidence in business and stimulate new enterprises. When rising prices begin we can quit 'reorganizing' and go to constructing."

"FAT" FOR M'KINLEY.

The gold trust made a profit of over $12,000,000 on one of the Government bond issues. It is expected to contribute at least a third of that amount to the McKinley campaign fund. The trusts and manufacturers of the East, the men who attended the St. Louis convention in their own gorgeously arrayed private cars to frame a platform and nominate a candidate in their own interests, will contribute as much more. Boss Hanna will have at least $8,000,000 to convince voters that it is their duty to support the party that is pledged against the free coinage of silver at any ratio and against any change in the financial policy of the Government.

Is there a person endowed with reasoning faculties who believe that those men, who ride to the convention in their elegantly furnished private cars, contribute millions to elect a President for the benefit of the common herd? If there is it will not be necessary to expend any part of the campaign fund to get him to vote for the candidate of the gold and manufacturing trusts as he will do so without money and without price. He is foolish enough to assist in riveting upon himself the fetters which the trusts have forged for him.

A GREAT MAN DEAD.

Ex-Senator Lyman Trumbull of Illinois died at his home in Chicago last Thursday, after a lingering illness. He was born in Connecticut in 18 3, and for more than sixty years had been in public life. He was originally an anti-slavery Democrat, and with Lincoln assisted in organizing the Republican party. When the Republican party departed from its mission, though it had honored him with a seat in the United States Senate, he left it and became a Democrat. Disgusted with Clevelandism he became a Populist. Though he led and taught parties he did not feel bound by tradition or association to follow any party when it diverged from a course which his conscience could not approve. He was one of the great men of the war and reconstruction periods and always rose above party on great occasions like the impeachment of President Johnson, the encroachments of Federal Courts upon the constitutional rights of the people and the efforts of the plutocrats to demonetize one-half the constitutional money of the country.

Judge Trumbull was a friend of the people, a statesman and a patriot, not a partisan.

A NEW YORK BLUFF.

The New York Democratic Convention, which was dominated by gold men, through several of the delegates were instructed for free coinage, failed to nominate Presidential electors. This is construed to mean that if the Chicago Convention nominates a free Silver man, the goldbug Democracy of New York will not put an electoral ticket in the field. New York has dictated the policy of the Democratic party, though in justice to the State it was not responsible for the nomination of Cleveland in 1892, and now it proposes to bolt if the Silver men are in the ascendency in the National Convention. It is a bold bluff, but the Silver men will call it and compel the New Yorkers to show their hands.

Whitney and Hill controlled the convention and played a bold game, but they cannot frighten the Silver men of the South and West.

REPUBLICAN CONSISTENCY.

The Republicans of Nevada in Convention assembled at Virginia City last May declared for free coinage at 16 to 1. Not a member of the party, not excepting the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, dissented from the declaration. Since then the Republican party in Convention at St. Louis, declared against free coinage, and the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, and a few of those who ratified the 16 to 1 platform in Virginia City, now say the Republican declaration at St. Louis against free coinage is the "correct thing." If anybody can change his opinion quicker than a Nevada Republican office seeker, he has not yet spoken.

Republican Advisory Committee.

CINCINNATI, O., June 26.—The Times-Star special from Canton says: McKinley and Hanna deny that any selections have been made for the National Executive Committee except that Quay has been offered the Chairmanship. There also has been talk of the Advisory Committee. H. H. Kohlsatt of Chicago will probably be a member of the Advisory Committee, also Cornelius N. Bliss of New York. Thomas McDougal of Cincinnati had a long talk with McKinley last night. It is said that he had been urged to accept a place on the Advisory Committee. To-day Charles Emory Smith of Philadelphia and Chris Magee of Pittsburg are here, and the matter of the Advisory Committee was discussed with them. McDougal said: "There is but one issue, the tariff."

Reception to McKinley.

CANTON, Ohio, June 26.—The reception of Governor McKinley, Mrs. Wm. McKinley, Sr., and Mrs. Wm. McKinley, Jr., arranged by the women of Canton and Stark counties, began at 3 o'clock this afternoon, when the guests of honor, the receiving party, composed of some eight or ten ladies, and the immediate McKinley relatives appeared on the balcony of the residence of the late Jacob Miller. Mrs. Alice Jones, in a happy speech, extended the best wishes of the women of Stark county to Governor McKinley and their hearty congratulations to his wife and mother. McKinley responded briefly. Then the crowd passed through the parlor to shake hands with the guests of honor. This scene was one of brilliancy seldom equalled

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

The Venezuelans have released the British Surveyor Harrison, whose arrest caused strained relations between the Governments.

Irving Ford, a negro, was hanged at Washington, D. C., on May 4th. Ford claimed that he was drunk when he committed the crime.

Thursday the wife of Dr. Croome of San Francisco procured a divorce. Yesterday morning Croome was a corpse, having committed suicide by asphyxiation.

Lewis Roseland of Pullman, Illinois, poisoned himself and his child. His wife found him dead in his bed and by his side his daughter's corpse. He was employed at the Pullman works.

Corbett and Sharkey have signed an agreement to fight to a finish for the world's championship at some place in the United States or Mexico. In addition to the purse offered by the club each of the pugilists will put up $10,000.

The friends of Henry M. Teller announce that his name will be presented at the Chicago Convention and it is hoped the strength he will show on the initial ballot will stampede the convention to him. They say the indorsement of the Populist party is assured for him if the Democrats make him their candidate.

Three of the largest and most formidable filibustering expeditions that ever left the United States are now on their way to Cuba. The vessels are "Three Friends," from Jacksonville, Florida, the "Commodore," from Charleston, South Carolina, and the "Stanbury," from Tampa, Florida. The "Stanbury" has a cargo of 500 tons of ammunition.

Mrs. Nettie Craven testified in a San Francisco court that she was the lawful wife of the late Senator Fair. She swore that on the night of May 23, 1892, at her house, 832 Sutter street, she was married to Senator Fair by contract in the presence of a witness who will testify at the proper time. She kept the marriage a secret to avoid notoriety and to please Senator Fair.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND.

The Best Remedy in the World—It Makes People Well.

There is one true specific for diseases arising from impure blood and a debilitated nervous system, and that is Paine's Celery Compound, so generally prescribed by physicians. It is probably the most remarkable remedy that the scientific research of this country has produced. Prof. Edward E. Phelps M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth college, first prescribed what is known the world over as Paine's Celery Compound, a positive cure for dyspepsia, biliousness, liver complaint, neuralgia, rheumatism, all nervous diseases and kidney troubles. For the latter Paine's Celery Compound has succeeded again and again where everything else has failed.

Congressman Hartman, one of the St. Louis bolters, has been accorded the greatest ovation ever given a citizen of Montana. He was met at the depot at Butte by hundreds of people and a brass band, and after he entered his carriage the horses were detached from the vehicle and several hundred enthusiastic silver men pulled it up hill a mile to the city. In the evening Hartman addressed 5,000 people and said he had turned his back on the Republican organization until it again represented the people

Hudlestone, State President of the order, for having conspired to sell the influence of the order to John D. Spreckles. The report practically sustains Ross and recommends that the present State officers of the A. P. A. be suspended pending a formal trial.

BORN.

HILLMAN—In Reno, June 24, 1896, to the wife of Professor F. H. Hillman, a son.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

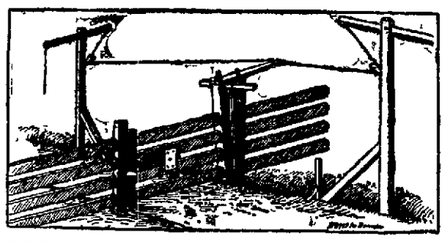
VICTOR AUTOMATIC GATE OPERATOR

Patented February 25, 1896, by F. V. Burner, Elko, Nevada. (No. 555,427.)



J. J. BURNER, Box 345, Reno, Nevada,

—GENERAL AGENT IN WESTERN NEVADA—

FOR the Victor Automatic Gate Operator, is selling farm rights in Western Nevada. All who are interested and wish to buy State or County rights will please see him personally or write to F. V. Burner, Proprietor of the Victor Automatic Gate Operator, Elko, Elko County, Nevada.

This gate saves time, money, trouble and accidents. Do not fail to buy a right. If you do you will regret it. Charges are lower now than they will ever be again, as we are introducing it.

Why the Victor Automatic Gate is the Most Practical on the Market

1. It is the most simple gate ever constructed
2. It can be made cheaper than any other.
3. It can be opened and closed from any distance desired.
4. The Victor Operator can be attached to any thing in the shape of a gate, no matter what the form or material.
5. The wire and one hinge are the only things about the Operator which cannot be made of wood.
6. Any ordinary hinge suitable for any other gate may be used on this.
7. There are two ways provided to get double purchase.
8. This purchase or leverage may be produced without springs or weights, simply by making the pivoted lever and pulley levers longer.
9. Everything about the Victor Operator can be made of metal.

J. J. Burner will put up a gate on Dan O'Conner's lot, opposite the Journal Office.

WEATHER BULLETIN.

July Weather Forecasts—A Challenge.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo, June 26.—My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from June 30th to July 4th, and the next will reach the Pacific coast about the 5th, cross the west of the Rockies country by the close of the 6th, Great Central valleys 6th to 9th, and the Eastern States the 10th.

A warm wave will cross the west of Rockies country about July 5th, Great Central valleys the 7th and the Eastern States the 9th.

A cool wave will cross the west of Rockies country about July 8th, Great Central Valleys the 10th, and the Eastern States the 12th.

GENERAL JULY WEATHER.

Temperature in the Missouri and Ohio valleys, the Upper Mississippi valley and North Atlantic States will generally be about or below the normal, and in all the balance of the country above normal.

Rainfall on the Atlantic coast will be below normal, and in all the balance of the country about or above normal except in a few small localities. As an average of the United States July will be the best crop month of the 1896 crop season in the Great Central valleys and westward.

This forecast does not include small local drouths and heavy local rains covering small territories. The forecast is made to indicate the general effect on the crops of the whole country.

In many sections June will probably close with a deficiency of moisture threatening to the corn crop, but in most parts of the corn belt the July rains will restore this crop and July will close with a favorable prospect for a large corn crop.

The Atlantic Coast States will probably suffer from drouths, especially if June closes, as expected, with a deficiency of rain in that section.

The cotton crop east of the Mississippi will probably not be promising at the close of July, but west of the Mississippi that crop will be fully up to the average at the close of the month.

June will probably close quite favorable to the wheat crop, but some localities will probably have too much rain in July for good results to that crop. I would estimate the wheat crop several points better at the close of July than at the close of June.

One more critical crop month is to come for corn and the northern wheat crop. August will more particularly determine the corn crop. The cotton crop, however, depends largely on September and October weather. An early October frost sometimes cuts off millions of bales.

As a general average for the Missouri and Upper Mississippi valleys the last part of June will be cold, and this cold wave will extend a few days in July. Then up to about the middle of July the temperature will average above normal and the last ten days of the month will average below normal.

South of the Missouri and west of the Mississippi the last part of June and the first few days of July will be warmer than usual, from the 15th to 20th cooler than usual and the last ten days of the month above the average.

The Ohio valley and lower lakes will get above the average temperature the first third of July, below during the second third and above during the last third. The East Gulf States will be about the reverse of the Ohio valley.

The North Pacific States will have above average temperature the last week in June and the first week in July. From July 8th to 18th the temperature will average below, and the balance of the month above. The temperature of the South Atlantic States will be about the reverse of the North Atlantic States.

A CHALLENGE.

I challenge the world to a contest of weather forecasts. I particularly challenge the weather bureau of the United States and hope that some of the numerous professors of that institution, or all of them combined, will accept the challenge so that a thorough and scientific test can be made in a manner that can be readily understood by all the people of the United States.

I will place my forecasts with the middle man thirty-five days in advance and the weather bureau officials, or whoever may accept the challenge, may place their forecasts with the middle man seven days in advance, their forecast and mine for the seven days to be published a week in advance.

With the forecast in this shape all that will be necessary will be to indicate whether the seven days will average above or below the average of that month.

A COMMENDABLE COURSE

A Republican Paper Approves the Action of the Silver Committee.

The action of the State Central Committee of the Silver party in extending an invitation to all voters to meet with it in State Convention at Elko for the purpose of uniting in one grand assemblage in the fight for silver, is commendable. It shows a desire to subordinate party considerations to the public welfare. If all the silver men of the country can be brought to unite for a Presidential candidate of that faith, a great victory awaits them.—Hawthorne Bulletin

FUN AT WADSWORTH.

Editor McClatchy Has Some Fun With a McKinley Badge.

WADSWORTH, June 23.—There came near being a row of serious proportions here this morning, in which Editor McClatchy of Sacramento, and Chief Bull Tom of the Piutes figured.

Bull Tom is a Piute Chief and to-day was Tom's occasion to shine. He was gorgeously arrayed in barbaric splendor, and paraded about the railroad station to the infinite interest of passengers on the westbound train. Hawk feathers, burnished tin armlets, brilliantly colored blankets and all the different appurtenances that go to make an Indian chief were in evidence on Tom.

In the way of all this radiance came Charles McClatchy. He had come from the St. Louis Convention and was going to Sacramento. He saw the brilliant savage and noted that something in the makeup was missing. With a care for the fitness of things, even though one of the things be an Indian, McClatchy pinned a McKinley badge among Bull Tom's various decorations.

The Chief was pleased with the gift, but not so one R. L. Fulton, who is rated as an ex-newspaper man and pronounced goldbug. The McKinley badge on a Pinte pained Fulton, and he at once began negotiating for the purchase of it. He offered silver dollars, but Tom would have none of them. Fulton waxed wrathful and unburdened himself of picturesque comments upon the spectacle of a Piute Indian and McKinley badge combination. He denounced it as sacriligious and intimated that Major Pike, a prominent politician and delegate to the Silver Convention might have done such a thing.

"The man who gave the badge is no better than the Indian," shouted Fulton, McClatchy took the discourse good naturedly and Bull Tom was not worried over it.—Sacramento Bee.

An Old Cannon With a Peculiar Mystery Connected With It

Fremont's old brass cannon "Betsy" was used during the launching of the "Tahoe" at Glenbrook the other day. There is a mystery surrounding this piece of ordnance that is strange indeed. On any very notable occasion it seems to show up without trouble, but disappears from the public view as soon as its mission is fulfilled. The other day Mr. Bliss intimated that if "Betsy," as the old cannon is called, could be produced and made to talk that there would be some beer in it for the boys. "Betsy" was on hand and added to the noise, if nothing else, during the launching of the new steamer. After the ceremonies were over many of the guests felt that they would like to take a look at the old Fremont Cannon, but on this occasion, like on a number of others, it had disappeared immediately after the ceremonies were over.

Your Boy Won't Live a Month.

So Mr. Gilman Brown, of 34 Mill St., South Gardner, Mass., was told by the doctors. His son had Lung trouble, following Typhoid Malaria, and he spent three hundred and seventy-five dollars with doctors, who finally gave him up, saying: "Your boy won't live a month." He tried Dr. King's New Discovery and a few bottles restored him to health and enabled him to go to work a perfectly well man. He says he owes his present good health to the use of Dr. King's New Discovery, and knows it to be the best in the world for Lung trouble. Trial Bottles Free at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

Zamloch.

"It is pleasing to watch the countenances of the many visitors to Zamloch's soirees at the Opera House. Those who go who 'know it all,' those who 'have seen everything, heard everything, tried everything, done everything, know everything,' actually rise from their seats in wonder, and at the close of the magician's feats, invariably exclaim, 'Well, I declare!' 'That beats me!'"—The Denver News.

At the Opera House three nights next week.

District Court.

The motion for a new trial in the tax suit in which the State of Nevada is plaintiff and the Virginia & Truckee Railroad Company defendant was argued in the District Court yesterday. The motion was overruled by the Court and the defendant given a stay of proceedings of ten days to perfect an appeal to the Supreme Court.

The Court calendar will be called to-day and cases will be set for hearing.

Miners Requested to Stay Away.

In an ad. elsewhere the Executive Board of the Western Federation of Miners announces officially that a strike had been ordered at Louitville and Leadville, Colorado, and Custer Mining District, Idaho, and Nevada miners are requested to remain away from those places till the strike is settled.—Chronicle.

The local advisory board of the A. P. A. in San Francisco has had presented it a report from a sub-committee appointed to investigate the charges preferred by Donald M. Ross against B. F.

BREVITIES.

H. McDuffie and wife returned from California yesterday morning.

Miss Annie Summerfield was a passenger for the west last evening.

Colonel E. D. Boyle changed cars for Virginia from the west yesterday morning.

S. Scheeline, with Roth & Co., of San Francisco, was a through passenger from Virginia last evening.

The Appeal learns that the Carson News is about to declare for free coinage and repudiate McKinley.

George C. Turner of Cedarville, after a day or two's visit in Reno, took the train for California last night.

J. T. Walker and F. C. Hampton of Beckwith arrived from the north last evening and are guests at the Arcade.

Officer Nash picked up a coupling pin near the railroad track early yesterday morning that had evidently been prepared for a murderous weapon. It was wrapped tightly with cloth and a bulb fixed on one end so that a deadly blow on the head, could be struck without cutting the scalp. It is in the hands of the officers.

Rosenthal & Armanko are arranging to lay in a complete stock of typewriters' supplies. They are also agents for the Densmure, Caligraph and Yost machines. Anyone wishing to purchase a machine or the supplies necessary to them, will do well to consult these gentlemen and if they do not happen to have the article required they can obtain it on the shortest notice.

The funeral of the late David Ridenour took place yesterday from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. D. C. Wheeler. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Unsworth of the Episcopal Church. A large number of friends in carriages followed the hearse to the cemetery where all that is mortal of the old gentleman, who came in this world with the nineteenth century, was consigned to mother earth.

Change of Firm.

Geo. Sauer, late of Washoe City and Fred Grob have succeeded to the butchering business of J. A. Holcomb at the Truckee Market. The new firm will endeavor, as far as possible to sustain the good reputation so long held by this pioneer market, and will try to merit an increase of patronage by the choice meats and butchers' novelties they will have on sale. Mr. Grob was formerly connected with the market and is well acquainted with the needs of all patrons. The business will be under the personal supervision of the two proprietors and no pains will be spared to give the best of service in their line. je24tf*

Announcement.

Mrs. M. Skinner desires to announce to the public that she will assume charge of the Riverside Photograph Gallery on or about July 1, 1896. She will refit and rearrange the gallery and have the latest and most approved apparatus in the business. She has also engaged an artist from one of the best galleries in San Francisco to assist her in the work. Pictures in every style will be made, and the latest fads in the business introduced. The prices of all work will be in keeping with the times and the best of satisfaction guaranteed. je21w1

Paid For the Pleasure.

During a journey of the Emperor Joseph II to Italy the wheels of his coach broke down on the road, so that it was with difficulty that he reached a small village at a short distance. On his arrival there his majesty got out at the door of the only blacksmith shop in the town and desired him to repair the wheel without delay. "That I would do willingly," replied the smith, "but it being holiday all my men are at church. The boy who blows the bellows it not at home."

"An excellent method then presents of warming oneself," replied the emperor, who was unknown to the smith, and he set about blowing the bellows while the blacksmith forged the iron. The wheel being repaired, 6 sols were demanded for the job, but the emperor gave 6 ducats.

The blacksmith returned them to the traveler, saying, "Sir, you have made a mistake, and, instead of 6 sols, have given me 6 pieces of gold which no one in the village can change."

"Change them when you can," said the emperor, stepping into the carriage. "An emperor should pay for such a pleasure as that of blowing the bellows."

Peel and Wellington.

Dean Boyle in his "Reminiscences" tells a striking anecdote of the mutual appreciation of the same quality of high sincerity in public life of the famous statesman, Sir Robert Peel, and the "Iron Duke" of Wellington.

Mr. Wood, a friend of Dean Boyle's, had at one time, when the Duke of Wellington was very ill in London, come from the city to a country house at which Peel was visiting. As soon as he arrived, Sir Robert called him aside and asked with intense anxiety what was the latest news of the duke's condition. It was considered hopeless, and Mr. Wood told him so. The great minister broke down utterly, crying out with a burst of tears:

"He is the truest man I have ever known!"

The duke, however, recovered despite the predictions of his doctors, and survived Peel.

The same gentleman—Mr. Wood—by a curious coincidence was present when Peel was thrown from his horse and received the injuries which resulted in his death. He hastened to his assistance, procured a carriage and accompanied him home, remaining for some time in the house to render the family what services he might in their time of confusion and distress. He was yet there when the Duke of Wellington arrived to make inquiries, and was deputed by Lady Peel to receive him. He hastened to the door and found the duke on the step about to enter the house, and informed him that the physician pronounced Sir Robert's hurt to be desperate, and his chance of life almost nothing.

"He was the soul of truth," said the old soldier huskily, and turning abruptly from the threshold he mounted his horse and rode sorrowfully away.

How the "Editor" Was Made.

The normal process of the evolution of editors was simply the gradual delegation of powers by the printer or bookseller who had first employed some inhabitant of Grub street as a drudge, and when the work became too complex and delicate had handed over the duties to men of special literary training. Two very important periodicals, however, of this period show a certain reversion to the olden type. The Edinburgh Review owed part of its success to its independence of publishers. It was started not by a speculator who might wish to puff his own wares, but by a little knot of audacious youths who combined as Steele and Addison combined in The Spectator. It seems that at first they scarcely even contemplated the necessity of an editor, and Sydney Smith was less editor than president of the little committee of authors at the start.

When Jeffrey took up the duty he was careful to make it understood that his work was to be strictly subordinate to his professional labors, and he had no thinking that his fame would come to depend upon his editorship. The Edinburgh, however, soon became a review of the normal kind. Cobbett, on the other hand, started his Political Register as a kind of rival to The Annual Register. It was to be mainly a collection of state papers and official documents, but it soon changed in his hands into the likeness of Defoe's old Review. It became a personal manifesto of Cobbett himself, and as such held a most important place in the journalism of the time. But Cobbett was, and in some ways remains, unique, and, as the newspaper has developed, the "we" has superseded the "I" and the organism become too complex to represent any single person. —National Review.

Christiania.

The chief street of Christiania is the broad Karl Johans Gade, which leads up from the eastern station to the palace. Here on opposite sides are two buildings of importance, where young men flock to study and old men meet to legislate. The proximity of politics and learning recalls the conception of Stein, who hoped that the presence of a great university in Berlin would have a good effect on the government. The chief Prussian and Norwegian temples of the thoughtful goddess were founded within a few years of each other. Both have displayed a readiness to welcome new ideas and furthered the cause of freedom in countless fields of thought.

The life and movement of the city are practically confined to this street and the harbor. There the dramatist Ibsen is in the habit of walking every day, and his countrymen are said to regulate their watches by his appearance. It was my fortune to lunch in a restaurant at a table not far from where he sat, but his face did not specially attract me. Those who feel more sympathy with his works and relish his portraits of exceptions would be fascinated by his grim and crabbed features, unrelieved by any frank or genial smile, for of such are the world's reformers.

Inclosed in a shed on the grassy ground behind the university buildings are two viking ships, which date from the middle ages. No relics of the past are more essentially poetic than those which mark the earliest triumphs of man in his awful struggle with things. According to all accounts, the lot of Norwegian fishermen and peasants is still peculiarly hard, for nature is a cruel stepmother, and life becomes almost tragic for them by excess of work. —Westminster Review.

Onions.

Onions are almost the best nervine known, says The Housekeeper. No medicine is so useful in cases of nervous prostration, and there is nothing else that will so quickly relieve and tone a wornout system. Onions are useful in all cases of coughs, colds and influenza, in consumption, insomnia, hydrophobia, scurvy, gravel and kindred liver complaints. Eaten every other day they soon have a clearing and whitening effect on the complexion.

ST. VITUS' DANCE

A Nervous Disease Characterized by Involuntary and Purposeless Spasms.

It Occurs Most often in Girls; is Often Hereditary, but Articular Rheumatism and Scarlet Fever Predispose to it.

From the Chronicle, Chicago, Ill.

Notwithstanding the poor are always with us, Thanksgiving is none the less a day of rejoicing. Many charities have been dispensed and through numerous instrumentalities the necessities and sufferings of many a worthy person have been relieved. Absent members of households reunite at the old homestead and gathered around the festal board recount the incidents that have taken place and the various blessings that have been vouchsafed them, since they assembled at the last annual meeting by the same fireside. It is a time for memory and for joy. Among the countless families of Chicago there is perhaps, not one to-day that feels a deeper sense of gratitude to the Giver of all good and perfect gifts than Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Collier, of 4904 Armour Avenue.

Mr. Collier, who is the electrician at the Chicago and Rock Island Railroad shops in this city came here from Hamilton, Canada, a little more than nine years ago accompanied by his wife and little daughter, their only child Etta, then aged four. Little Etta was a bright and beautiful girl, but not a very robust one.

For the last few years she had been somewhat ailing, but her condition was not such as to create any uneasiness in the minds of her parents, who almost idolized her. In the school she was regarded as one of the brightest scholars of her class and was the envy of her class-mates. Although but a little over twelve years of age, her intellect was phenomenal. She was possessed, however, of a very nervous temperament which is frequently the case with children of her advanced intelligence. Early in the month of June last, owing to a sudden fright, she was thrown into violent spasms, to recover only to be afflicted with St. Vitus' dance in the worst form. The consternation of her parents may well be imagined.

Of course the best physicians were summoned at once but their efforts to restore her to her normal condition were devoid of results. She continued to grow worse, her appetite wholly failed and commencing with her right arm her whole right side and lower limb became limp, numb, and useless and what little nourishment she was able to take had to be administered by others. To add to the seriousness of the case she was unable to obtain any sleep whatever.

It was while in this deplorable condition hovering between life and death with all the prospects of a premature grave before her, that one day on returning home from his duties Mr. Collier found awaiting him a newspaper, which an old acquaintance in Hamilton, his former place of residence, had sent to him by mail.

In the local columns he read of the case of a certain person he had known years before having been permanently cured of the complaint of which his own daughter was now suffering, by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. He had often heard and read before marvellous accounts of the efficacy of this remedy but as no names with which he was personally familiar appeared, he not only doubted but positively disbelieved the statements. But here before his eyes was apparent evidence from one he knew. He therefore lost no time in making assurance doubly sure and as soon as he learned that the story was absolutely true, he lost no time in procuring the Pink Pills for his suffering daughter. This was on the 15th of September. Prior to this date and after consulting doctors of different schools of medicine, he had taken her to the Homeopathic Dispensary where her case was discussed by all the members of the faculty who unanimously declared in the presence of the class that there was no longer any hope to be held out as it was a malady which in this instance at least was incurable. It was therefore with a feeling of utter despair that Mrs. Collier first began to administer the Pink Pills.

She says a perceptible change came over the little one before even the second box had been emptied and how after having used six boxes her health is entirely restored. In the early part of her illness her intellect was very much clouded. She had become extremely dull of comprehension hardly realizing the meaning of words when addressed. Seen to-day in the cheerful home of the Collier's on Armour Avenue, she is the personification of health. Her nervousness has entirely disappeared, her intellect is bright, keen and active, her strength has returned and the roses in her cheeks attest to the complete recovery of her bodily health.

She is now ready to resume her music lessons and as soon as the schools open after the holidays she will again take up the studies which she so suddenly left off on that eventful June day. The sister-in-law of Mrs. Collier, Mrs. Lewis, who was present at the interview emphatically confirmed all that Mrs Collier has said regarding the past and present condition of little Etta, adding that a famous physician in Hamilton invariably recommends Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in such cases as this and many others.

Mrs. Collier herself has for a number of years been a constant sufferer from a female complaint which so far has baffled the skill of the doctors, and during a period of less than six months her husband has expended over two hundred dollars in fees for medicines. She has now begun the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and while it is as yet too early to announce a cure in her case she feels so much improved as to express the belief that her physical troubles will shortly be of the past. These are some of the reasons why the Collier family return thanks on this our national day of praise and festivity.

The above is a correct statement of facts concerning my little daughter and myself.

MRS. A. COLLIER.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 2nd day of December, 1895.

DAN GREENE,
Notary Public.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People have an enormous sale. An analysis of their properties shows that they contain, in a condensed form, all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after effect of la grippe, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexions, that tired feeling resulting from nervous prostration; all diseases resulting from vitiated humors in the blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc. They are also a specific for troubles peculiar to females, such as suppressions, irregularities and all forms of weakness. They build up the blood, and restore the glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks. In men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork or excesses of whatever nature. There are no ill effects following the use of this wonderful medicine, and it can be given to children with perfect safety.

These pills are manufactured by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y., and are sold only in boxes bearing the firm's trade mark and wrapper, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, and are never sold in bulk. They may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company. The price at which these pills are sold makes a course of treatment inexpensive as compared with other remedies.

Madras Thunderstorms.

As the result of his prolonged study of those striking phenomena, the thunderstorms of Madras, Professor Smith informs the Scottish Meteorological society that the first remarkable fact observed by him was that of certain seasons of the year when sheet lightning appeared almost every night, always in a west or southwesterly direction and invariably near the horizon; it may be, therefore, he remarks, that these discharges occur in the region where the moist and dustless sea wind meets the dry and dusty land wind, one being, perhaps, positively electrified and the other negatively. In these lightning displays as many as 300 flashes per minute have been counted, this rate being kept up for an hour or an hour and a half. Another notable peculiarity remarked of this region is that the heaviest rains are unaccompanied by thunder, while the displays of lightning are not accompanied by any rain.

Delaware's Names.

Delaware has been called the Diamond State, for, though small in size, it formerly was of great political importance. It also enjoys the nickname of the Blue Hen State, this having been bestowed on account of a gentleman named Caldwell, who made the state famous in sporting annals by the quality of his gamecocks, which he always bred from the eggs of a blue hen, believing that this was the best color for the mother of a gamecock.

For your Protection.—Catarrh "Cures" or Tonics for Catarrh in liquid form to be taken internally, usually contain either Mercury or Iodide of Potassa, or both, which are injurious if too long taken. Catarrh is a local, not a blood disease, caused by sudden change to cold or damp weather. It starts in the nasal passages, affecting eyes, ears and throat. Cold in the head causes excessive flow of mucus, and, if repeatedly neglected, the results of catarrh will follow; severe pain in the head, a roaring sound in the ears, bad breath, and oftentimes an offensive discharge. The remedy should be quick to allay inflammation and heal the membrane. Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for these troubles and contains no mercury nor any injurious drug. Price, 50 cents.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

DENNIS MAHONEY, PLAINTIFF, VS. Anna Sheehy, Defendant. Under and by virtue of an order of sale, and decree of foreclosure and sale, issued out of the District Court of the State of Nevada for Washoe county, on the 23d day of June, A. D. 1896, in the above entitled suit, wherein Dennis Mahoney, the above named plaintiff, obtained a judgment and decree of foreclosure and sale against Anna Sheehy, defendant, the 22d day of June, A. D. 1896, for the sum of five hundred ($500) dollars, together with $50 attorney's fees, and $16 50 interest, $7 90 costs, accruing costs and interests, I am commanded to sell all the right, title and interest of the said defendant, Anna Sheehy, in and to lot No. seven (7) in Block J, in Reno, Washoe county, Nevada, fronting fifty feet on the west line of Peavine street and extending back one hundred an forty feet to an alley, together with all and singular the tenements, hereditaments and appurtenances thereto belonging or in anywise appertaining.

Public notice is hereby given that on

The 15th Day of July, 1896,

At 12 o'clock M. of said day, in front of the court-house door of the county of Washoe, I will, in obedience to said order of sale and decree of foreclosure and sale, sell the above described property, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy said judgment with interest, costs, etc., to the highest and best bidder, for gold coin of the United States.

W. H. CAUGHLIN, Sheriff.
